The Dragons of Double Eagle

Our art area has transformed into a dragon's lair. Each day, a new colorful creation is born. Our first dragon was created by Maya. She wanted to create a new friend to take outside and fly around the playground. Aliyah, a dragon enthusiast, loved Maya's creation so much that she made one of her own. Together the girls went out to the playground and put their creations on display. Quinn loved the idea and started out with his own mini-dragon. Then Lucia joined the fun with a dragon of her own. Lucia said, "I want to make the biggest dragon at Double Eagle! I want Dragons that can open their mouths and blow fire!" We started to discuss all the different parts of dragons and what they would need in order to survive in the wild. The kids decided that the dragons needed bigger wings. Next, the dragons needed something special, somethings that would make each one an individual. Maya decided to add feathers, Quinn made a series of "mini dragons" and Lucia became a dragon by making a costume for herself. All the kids loved Lucia's dragon costume so much that they created costumes of their own. Before the end of the week we had four dragons at Double Eagle!
