

John Baker News

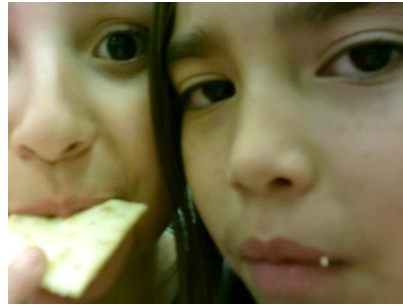

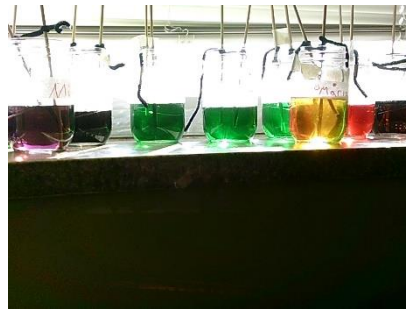

March 2019

For this month's newsletter we are trying something a little different. Earlier in the school year we bought a digital camera specifically for the kids to use. Have a look at some of the many pictures they have taken during the school year and let us know what stories they are telling. The old adage is that a picture is worth a thousand words. If so, then there are about 30,000 words to work with here.
