

Super CC Kid!

Get to Know Avery

Avery is in the second grade. He is silly, energetic, and a great cleaner! Avery enjoys playing outside with his friends. You can usually find him playing some kind of sport outside. His favorite area is the Construction Area because he likes to build and to destroy!

Mini Interview:

If you were to invent a rule what would it be?
You could not eat five radium.

Woah, what is that and why would you ban it?
Well it's a dangerous chemical. It can get in your lungs and you can suffocate. So I don't want it to be a thing.

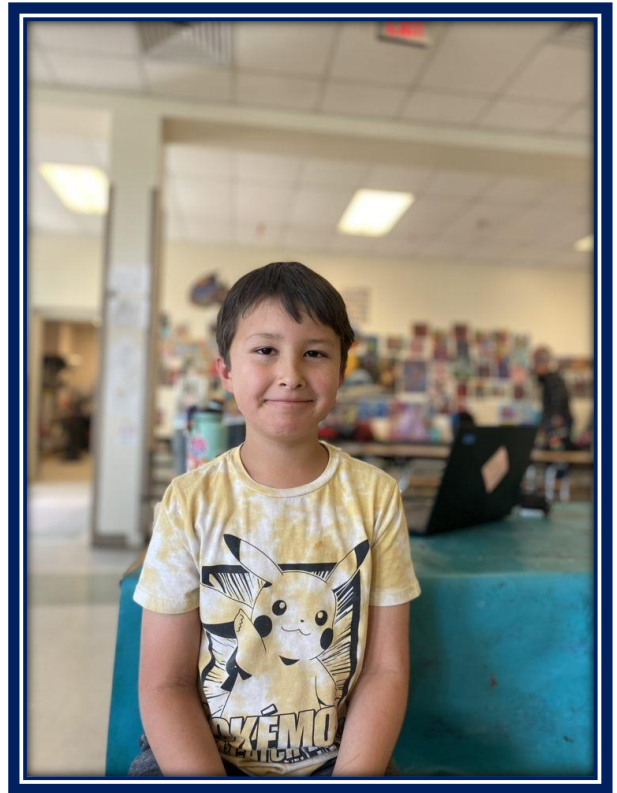

What is your favorite memory from this year?
I jumped off the play structure and landed like a dog it was really funny.

What are you looking forward to most about the summer?
Me? Well, I am going to CC for summer camp, and going swimming in my pool in my backyard!

Are you excited to be in third grade?
Yes, for math, science and geometry!

What is something I should know about you?
I want to make a book and be a famous basketball player!

What basketball team would you play for?
I would play for the Lakers or the Cleveland when I start just like LeBron. He started on Cleveland and moved to the Lakers and I want to be just like him!

Japan-land Update

This week in Japan-land everyone was delighted to pick out a "Hamuchan", or as it translates, "bouncy little hamster" sticker. This hamster became famous in Japanese pop-culture from a television show and game. Japan-land then played "Goo Chokie Paa" (the Japanese version of "Rock Scissors Paper"). Then they got to try on a "Tengu" mask which is part of Asian Mythology from the Shinto deity whom is rumored to protect the wilderness and frightens off bad spirits. Ooooo, scary! Next week we will explore more Japanese pop-culture and end the way we started, loving miso!

Older Kids Open House! Part II

Since the last older kids open house was such a blast and they had so many more kids interested, they decided to host another open house with some new activities. There was dancing, reading, and a game of Magic the Gathering all hosted by the older kids and once again it was a hit! Hennessy and Evelyn showed everyone how to do a choreographed dance and then opened it up for open dance. Elliot and Dash hosted Magic the gathering, and Aria S. and Santana read a story to everyone. We all had such a good time celebrating all of the older kid's hard work!

Aria taking her turn reading to Mimi and Will!

Some older girls showing a dance & some younger girls practicing moves of their own! Also, a gathering of Magic with some older boys!
