ROCK, PAPER, SCISSORS, JUMP!

This week our kids had a blast playing a new version of Rock, Paper, Scissors! We set up some hula hoops on the floor as the path. We lined up two teams at either end of the hula hoop path. The kids had to jump to the other end of the hula hoop line at the same time, toward each other. When they met up, they had to play rock paper scissors. Whoever won could continue on to the other side, but if you lost, you went back to your side and the next team member started on the path.

“We need a strategy! This is chaos!” - Emmet

“If I do rock every time I’ll win eventually.” -Oliver A.

“What if we do scissors, paper, rock instead?” -Kaidyn K.

COLOR OUR WORLD!

This week was the last week of Water Color Club with Taryn. The kids learned a lot of new and exciting water color techniques! On the last day they learned how to paint corn flowers. Taryn showed them how to paint the shapes and which colors to use but the kids put their own creative spins on their flowers and made them truly unique!

“How do you make pink? With purple and red?” -Brynn

“I want to do petals all around my flower, not just the bottom” -Penny

“I want my picture to have a sun too”-Elise

“All my dots keep mixing together!” -Hoa
