Kid Spotlight Meet

Gabby!

Gabby is one of our super fun kindergarteners. She loves taking walks to the park with her family on the weekends and playing tag with her friends at school.

What do you want to be when you grow up?

“I want to do peoples nails so everyone can have pretty nails.”

What is your favorite food?

“I love Frito pie but I don’t like the chile. I put lots of cheese.”

If you could have any super power what super power would you want to have?

“I would want to have super freeze powers so I can freeze my drink on a hot day!”

Science Explorers

Recently we have been learning with some hands-on science experiments. Our staff Steph made elephant toothpaste and dry ice bubbles with the kids where they learned about different states of matter and how when some of them interact it creates a whole new affect. We mixed some simple household items that foamed into elephant toothpaste and we used different liquids with dry ice to create bubbles with gas inside of them.

Spreading Kindness

We love our school and we thought one way to show it was to spread some positivity with chalk art.

We talked about what encouragement sounds like with words, and what it looks like with pictures. The kids had a great time spreading love and positivity to the school where everyone can see it!
