Welcome to the Jungle!

IMPORTANT INFO:

We NEED YOU TO CALL OR TEXT: 382-1815 if your child is scheduled for program AND WILL NOT be attending.

Please make sure you are signing your child out on the tablet before you leave.

We will be doing field trips on separate days for Kinder-2nd grade and then for 3rd - 5th grade. Please read the calendar thoroughly!

Hi, Ellie and Zaden!

“Hello, my name is Ellie, I'm 9 years old, I'm in 4th grade, and this this is a story about how I met my best friend Zaden.

So when we met, me and Zaden were in preschool, and we weren't really best friends, but we just knew each other. Then on the first day of kindergarten, me and my mom were like standing outside of the office and Zaden and his mom were standing right next to us, but we didn't know that until I heard Zaden call my name. Then I saw him, and then I gave him a big hug. We were meant to be in the same kindergarten class, but he got moved to a different class. I guess because they didn't have any students, but my class only had like 10 students. Then the next year we weren't in the same class, but then the year after that we were in the same class. Then in third grade we were at the same class, but then I moved classes because the teacher wasn't that good.

I like Zaden because he is my friend, and he's very kind.”

a look back...

The Jungle Walrus

Legends of past tell of the Jungle Walrus... A regular type of walrus that somehow lives in the jungle. This particular type of walrus is really self conscious about their long tusks/teeth.

"That was so hard. It was my first time playing it. It made my mouth hurt."

Atlas, 8

After 5:30 when the jungle turns back into a cafeteria, we play a game called Walrus. You have to cover your teeth like Jungle Walruses would, and then you turn to your friends and bark at them!

"I like that we just bark at each other."

Mariana, 8

Barking isn't the only goal: the mission is to make each Jungle Walrus laugh so hard they show their teeth!

In between rounds, we definitely need to give our face cheeks a break. When the jungle gets quiet, the kids make sure there is never true silence:

"This game reminds me of Freddy Frazzbear." Jerry, 6

"There's a game called Sealook, and this game reminds me of that."

Mariana, 8

...and another look

A Restaurant by Any Other Name

Come eat at our restaurant! When the kids demand it, you have to go.

"We cook food. We serve. We have waiters. You can get it for here or to go." Cecilia, 8

"Two Dr. Peppers, and I'll be the chef." Emma, 6

It sounds like they have it all figured out, and we would love to recommend A Restaurant! The kids were working over time, so they did not have time to think of a name for their restaurant. There is no rest in the jungle!

"Should we name it Applebee's? It's hard to pick names." Emma, 6

The orders were flooding the kitchen, and food was literally going flying! Everyone received their exact order with mistakes.

"The sushi looks good." Gigi, 9

"I'm drinking fancy because I'm getting the Italian fair." Zaden, 9

"I saw this YouTuber who put ranch on their noodles, cereal, everything." Gigi, 9

The relaxing, organized dining room created plenty of space for interesting conversations about ranch! The service was so good that the entire staff decided to generously give back and let one of their best customers eat for free!

"Since you are our best customer, you get your food for free." Espi, 10
