DIY Lava Lamps w/Lexi

During an interactive science activity, children crafted their own custom lava lamps by combining water, food coloring, vegetable oil, and effervescent tablets. Guided by dedicated assistants Eevie R. (7) and Ripley A (7), each child received step-by-step support to bring their individual visions to life. The hands-on project sparked enthusiasm and creative reflection across the room: Teagan B (9) proudly shared that “mine looks like a sunset” with pink fading into yellow, while Lanna W. (8) jokingly observed that “mine got too much oil.” The activity proved to be an engaging success, leaving the children with both unique personal keepsakes and a joyful learning experience.

Balloon Drop with Rhianna

Kids were challenged to try and not have the balloon drop. Each group got to practice throwing balloons in the air and catching them. We then tried to pass the balloon to each team. Lastly we tried to get other teams out. The kids had so much fun with this activity. Kids like Olive J (6), Luciana L. (8), and pretty much all of them wish they could've got soaked.

Asher B. (9) This was a creative idea

Luke W. (9) Are the towels for us to dry off?

Kaylee B. (8) We should've thrown the water balloons at each other

Explore Quiet Area

With Kori

During our Quiet Area exploration, we slowed down, got cozy, and enjoyed a peaceful time together through storytelling and reading. We gathered with friends and explored three different books: Thelma the Unicorn, Nerdy Birdy, and The Hat. We practiced active listening, followed along with each story, shared our thoughts, and connected with the characters and their experiences. This quiet reading time encouraged a love of books while creating a calm space for imagination, connection, and relaxation.

Shhh!

OKC Boba Keychains

With
Olivia H. &
Thelma

This week on Keeping Up with the Rams Older Kids Edition, we kicked things off with Olivia H. (9) Inspired by the tiny soda can she and I made together last year, Olivia wanted to bring the tiny craft fun to all the Older Kids. And what better way to do that than with something every kid can get excited about... BOBA! Together, we created adorable tiny boba keychains, and Olivia took the lead! She stepped up to the front, passed out the supplies, and gave the Older Kids all the directions they needed to make their own. Once the crafting began, everyone got to customize their boba exactly how they wanted it. Different colors, fruit, and styles made each one totally unique! Some friends even decided to make matching keychains with their besties. "Ours match because we're besties!" said Zoey C. (10) From tiny boba cups to matching bestie keychains, this activity was the perfect mix of creativity, friendship, and a little bit of tiny craft magic!

Bestie Check-In

meet

Owen B. (10) & Lucas P. (11)

This week, we get to meet another group of besties here at Children's Choice! Owen and Lucas are taking on the interview challenge and giving us a little peek into their personalities, interests, and thoughts on growing up. From thoughtful moments to answers that caught us off guard, Owen and Lucas definitely made this interview one to remember. Let's jump in and see what these besties had to say!

What's the worst thing about being young?

Not getting to eat as much as I want, not getting to play video games all the time.

What superhero would you most like to be and why?

Spiderman, I already am, when I put a blow dryer through my cast, sweat shoots out and sprays like my own webs.

What have you learned about life from your Mom and Dad?

They taught me how to be nice, how to be smart, and have good manners, and how to be a cool guy.

How do you feel? What made you feel happy today?

Owen: Doordashing McDonalds, because it was tasty and I was hungry.

Lucas: Good because I got McDonalds, and I have my friends with me. It has been a great day.

Would you rather watch a movie at home or the theater?

At home, because I don't like the ads at the theaters, and I can just get candy and popcorn at home, it's a lot less money.

What's cool about being a grown up?

You get more freedom, and you can do whatever you want. The bad thing is you have to pay taxes. First thing I would do as a grown up is put more money in my investments.

Tell me something you are really good at.

Hockey, VR, Baseball, and football, because I practice a lot.

And that's a wrap! Owen and Lucas brought the laughs, the personality, and plenty of fun answers to this week's interview, giving us a great look at what makes their friendship so much fun. Thanks for joining us, Owen and Lucas, and for sharing a little bit about yourselves! Until next time, keep being you, keep having fun, and keep those good times rolling!
