FINDING SUNSHINE

In The RAIN

With Hurricane Polo in full swing, we couldn't help but "Marco" over some kindness to our site! Take a look at some of the projects that have helped make these rainy days feel brighter.

To celebrate Cindra's upcoming wedding, Julia banded together a group of our kids to surprise her with a giant "Congratulations Cindra!" card and gift bag. The card had hand-drawn pictures of rings, a bouquet, and many signatures.

"That was so nice of them!" Cindra said, sporting her new light-up flower crown from her gift bag.

Meet Harrison and his Beanie Boo! When asked what he names his beanie boo, Harrison proudly answered, "It's actually called 'White Belly' because it's belly is white." Harrison chose White Belly as his Boo because his favorite color, Green, is the color of White Belly's eyes!

The long-awaited start of Beanie Boo Club has arrived! This highly anticipated yearly event was welcomed with exuberant cheers, a flurry of applause, and a fistful of doughy-eyed Kinders, wondering just what all the hullabaloo was about. With record "first day" attendance, everyone excitedly went "all-in". Veteran Beanie Boo participants welcomed the new kids with helpful advice, gentle encouragement, and promises of "believe me, you'll LOVE IT!!" which helped the first-timers acclimate in record time to the beloved land of our Boo community. Where friendship, belonging, sharing, and caring guide our journey of discovery and empowerment. This year Emily took the lead, sharing her story of "Chocolate Chip", a boo true through and through, who still holds an honored place in her heart, as well as at her breakfast table, where a special place is reserved for her every morning.

A SUPER-CHW!

"I BELIEVE I CAN FLYTTTTT"
-STELLA

With a newfound love/discovery of slow-motion video capture, our kids created some amazing flying action shots to visualize them flying in the air, seeing what their faces looked like as they landed (don't fret, giant fluffy crash landing pads were present), as well as practicing their debut WWE wrestling moves!
