KEYCHAIN CLUB

Creativity is turning into entrepreneurship at Keychain Club! Our young artists have been busy designing and creating their own unique keychains, and some are taking their creations to the next level by turning them into businesses for our upcoming Mega Market!

Greyson is combining his love of football with his business skills by opening a football-themed store featuring handmade football keychains and bracelets. "I think people will want to buy them because football is awesome!" says Greyson.

Meanwhile, Elliott and Seniaah are teaming up to create a squishy store! The two are working together to turn their creative ideas into products they can sell. "We want to make squishies that everyone will want!" says Seniaah.

Keychain Club is about more than just crafting! Our young entrepreneurs are learning valuable skills like creativity, teamwork, budgeting, product development, and problem-solving. As they prepare for Mega Market, they're discovering how much planning and hard work goes into running a business.

MEET LEO!

This week, we sat down with Leo, age 6, to learn a little more about him! When we asked Leo what the best thing about being six is, he had a pretty exciting outlook on growing up: "Playing games and driving and I can do whatever I want! My dad told me." Leo's favorite colors are red, yellow, and blue, and his favorite animal is a lion. His reasoning? "Cause it's got L, Leo the Lion!" At Children's Choice, Leo loves building forts in the construction area, playing games, and playing with LEGOs. At home, you can usually find him playing on his tablet, watching TV, or playing Roblox. When Leo grows up, he wants to be a babysitter for his mom and dad so he can babysit his sisters. (He also made sure we knew that one of his sisters wants to be a princess! ) If Leo could have one wish, he'd choose a Lamborghini so he and his mom could ride in it together.

If he could have superpowers, one definitely wouldn't be enough! Leo wants fire power, ice power, light power, and "helping power" so he can help his parents. His favorite superheroes are Batman and Spider-Man. Leo's advice for everyone is simple: "Be kind and be helpful and nice and not be bad. Cause that's a part of the rules."

When asked who he likes hanging out with, Leo told us about a friend he made: "My teacher said, 'This is what friends are!'" Thanks for letting us get to know you, Leo!

EGG-CELLENT CREATIONS

Our young artists got creative with egg dyeing! The kids experimented with colors, mixing shades and creating their own colorful designs. "I want to see what happens when I mix two colors! Also, can I drink the vinegar??" said Leo D. "Mine looks like a rainbow!" shared Jordan. Alaia was especially excited about the final step, saying, "The best part is we get to eat them!" After admiring their colorful creations, the kids peeled their eggs and enjoyed a delicious snack. Who knew art could be so tasty?

MEDIUM MASTERPIECE

Our young artists explored famous works of art by recreating The Starry Night and The Scream using different artistic mediums! Along the way, they experimented with textures, colors, and techniques while putting their own creative spins on these masterpieces. While admiring The Starry Night, Meluh asked, "Is this Colorado?" reminding us that everyone sees art a little differently!
